check stolen

Plotted by Darryl Bretherton
Checked by Ian Grant

The plotter apologises for the two mistakes. And combined with the crazy lady who 'stole' a very key check, what I had hoped would be a nice trial became a much more challenging one! However, all ended relatively well, with everyone making it to the end successfully and enjoying a beer or cold drink. And the crazy lady must have put the check back because it was there when I picked up all the checks later in the evening. Therefore timing has not been taken into consideration. So, on that basis, we have now seen Schnapper Rock, and won't be going back there again.
